THE EMBLEM ON THE PIECE

A 1899 LETTERHEAD FROM THE ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE

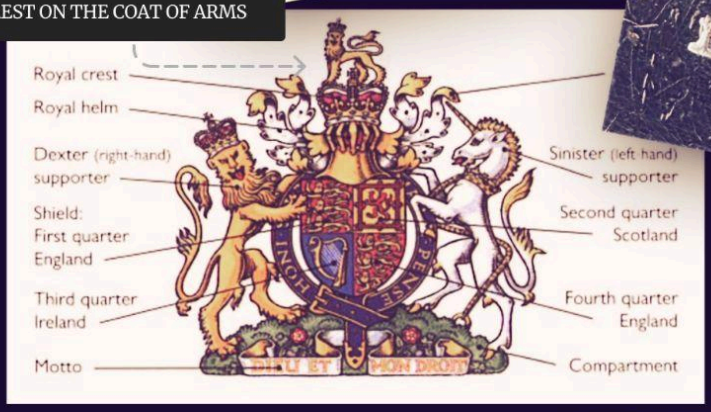
LOCATED IN CAMBERLEY, SURREY

THE ROYAL CREST OF ENGLAND

INITIALS R.M.C.

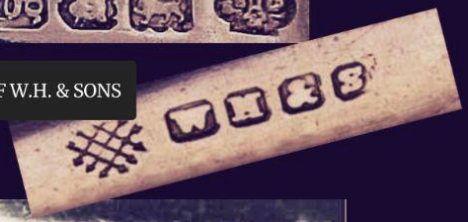
B.P. BRITANNIA PLATE

CREST ON THE COAT OF ARMS



SILVERPLATE MARK WILLIAN HUTTON & SONS

SILVER HALLMARK OF W.H. & SONS



THE CROSS ARROWS MARK WAS ENTERED IN THE LONDON ASSAY OFFICE IN 1894

1899 Royal Military College Camberley Surrey cadet invitation

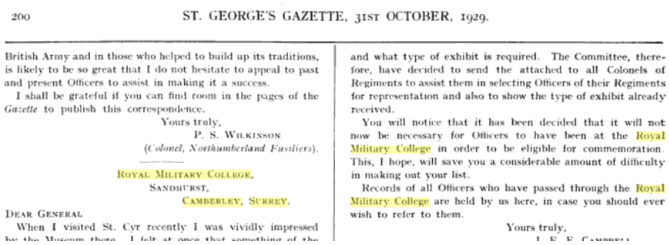
1899 Royal Military College Camberley Surrey cadet invitation Robertson Mackenzi

https://www.ebay.co.uk/itm/276152742004

St. George's Gazette, referring to the school as Royal Military College 'Sandhurst'.

St. George's Gazette -

https://www.google.com/books/edition/St_George_s_Gazette/Uq8aAQAAMAAJ?hl=en&gbpv=1&dq=%22Royal+Military+College%22+Camberley+SURREY&pg=PA200&printsec=frontcover



200 ST. GEORGE'S GAZETTE, 31ST OCTOBER, 1929.

British Army and in those who helped to build up its traditions, is likely to be so great that I do not hesitate to appeal to past and present Officers to assist in making it a success.

I shall be grateful if you can find room in the pages of the Gazette to publish this correspondence.

Yours truly,
P. S. WILKINSON
(Colonel, Northumberland Fusiliers).

ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE,
SANDHURST,
CAMBERLEY, SURREY.

DEAR GENERAL

When I visited St. Cyr recently I was vividly impressed and what type of exhibit is required. The Committee, therefore, have decided to send the attached to all Colonels of Regiments to assist them in selecting Officers of their Regiments for representation and also to show the type of exhibit already received.

You will notice that it has been decided that it will not now be necessary for Officers to have been at the Royal Military College in order to be eligible for commemoration. This, I hope, will save you a considerable amount of difficulty in making out your list.

Records of all Officers who have passed through the Royal Military College are held by us here, in case you should ever wish to refer to them.

Yours truly,

Images of the royal crest of England

An illustrated dictionary of words used in art and archaeology.

Mollett, John W. (John William) :

https://archive.org/details/illustrateddicti00moll/page/96/mode/1up?q=crest

Explanation of the british royal coat of arms

Explanation of the royal coat of arms' Anatomy:

https://www.britroyals.com/arms.asp

William Hutton & Sons - Sheffield : silverplate mark

William Hutton & Sons Ltd | Silver Maker | Antique Silver - AC Silver - https://www.acsilver.co.uk/shop/pc/William-Hutton-Sons-Ltd-b76.htm?srsltid=AfmBOoo_uCW9pLSKgzE31e8-T0XuZME2qp9Ru8U17UJDS4ggLjwXb7NW

WILLIAM HUTTON & SONS LTD

William Hutton & Sons Ltd wasn't always classed as a limited company, pre-1893 the silverware company that became William Hutton & Sons Ltd started life as simply William Hutton in 1800. It was in 1800 when William Hutton established his silverware firm in Birmingham, which later moved to Sheffield in 1832 when it became clear that the firm was well and truly active in the silversmith industry.

After William's death, the business was continued in the same style by his son William Carr Hutton, the name was subsequently changed to William Hutton & Son This form of the business was a partnership between William Carr Hutton and his son Herbert Hutton. In 1863, two years before William Carr Hutton died, a showroom in London was opened.

William Carr Hutton died in 1865, and around 1870 Herbert's older brothers James Edward Hutton and Robert Hutton joined the business, the name was then changed to William Hutton & Sons to match the new circumstances.

It was in 1893 that the business acquired Rupert Favell & Co, a manufacturer silversmith based in London. That same year the company became limited- William Hutton & Sons Ltd.

In 1902 William Hutton & Sons Ltd acquired Creswick & Co, a silverware manufacturers based in Sheffield. With this acquisition William Hutton & Sons Ltd were able to use Creswick & Co's crossed arrow marks.

In 1930 William Hutton & Sons Ltd became bankrupt- failed as a company. In the same year the firm was then absorbed by James Dixons & Sons.

William Hutton & Sons - Sheffield : silverplate mark

William Hutton & Sons - Sheffield - https://www.silvercollection.it/englawilliamhutton.html

Vintage Silver Plate Sauce Boat - Royal Military College - 1960

Vintage Silver Plate Sauce Boat with Spoon - Royal Military College - 1960

https://www.etsy.com/listing/496620263/vintage-silver-plate-sauce-boat-with&?slug_redirect_followed=1